Last month's film Amour was given a StarBox rating of 3.8 by the members who voted. Amour is a brilliant film but a difficult film to watch, as all those whom attended will attest. It is difficult to watch as it covers all the arguments surrounding euthanasia, for not only the person wanting to die but the carer and family. It was also pertinent that the Literary Festival had Andrew Denton speaking to the new legislation for Assisted Dying, being proposed to parliament later this year.

This month's film on the 28th June 2017 is Casablanca (1942), Directed by Michael Curtiz and stars Humphrey Bogart and Ingrid Bergman. Casablanca is rated PG and runs for 102 mins.

A terrific love story, with countless quotable lines - and a cinematic landmark still today. Bogart is the cynical American inspired to aid the Resistance by his love for Bergman. Simply one of the greatest movies ever made.

Casablanca remains one of Hollywood's greatest films even 75 years after it first hit the screen and needs no introduction. June, is Barrie's 'Classic Month' at the movies and Casablanca is an excellent choice. Play it yet again, Sam...
